URN CRYSTAL COLLECTION

The Crystal urn series is a unique product, combining pure crystal glass with fine porcelain.

Crystal urns consist of two parts: an outer crystal component (available in three designs: Gabriel, Uriel, and Sariel) and an inner porcelain component with a choice of four colors (gold, silver, white, and black).

Crystal urns symbolize the soul in the physical world.
Their crystal clarity and brilliance reveal the interior delicate and fragile porcelain.

HolyVerre brand

We are the only manufacturer in the world producing urns made of pure crystal combined with porcelain. All our products are handcrafted in accordance with the ancient art of glassmaking and the craftsmanship of ceramic artisans. To honor the memory and pay tribute to our loved ones, we design and produce unique, one-of-a-kind urns. Each piece is made with the utmost care and attention to every detail, and all our products undergo rigorous quality control.

What is Crystal?

It is called the “stone of stones” and symbolizes light on Earth. Its transparency charges us with positive energy, and it possesses its own vibration that resonates with human energy. Moreover, it acts as a filter, removing negative energy. For this reason, it is widely used in meditation, crystal therapy, and feng shui.

It is also said that crystal enhances clairvoyance, which is why it is used in the interpretation of the future.

How to recognize real crystal?

The urn, made of crystal glass containing 24% PbO, has several key features that make it impossible to confuse with ordinary glass. The lead oxide in the glass mass makes crystal urns highly malleable, allowing for the creation of exquisite hand-cut designs. They are characterized by exceptional clarity. The lead oxide content also makes crystal glass heavier than ordinary glass, enhancing its quality.

The extraordinary cuts, combined with perfect clarity, refract light, causing the urns to shimmer in all the colors of the rainbow when bathed in light. Our crystal collections are made 100% by hand, from the initial blowing by glassmakers to the decoration performed by skilled cutters. The entire production process is carried out using traditional methods.

In every human being, there is an energy that cannot be stopped by departure.

It is more than memory.

It is the light of presence, emotions, touch, glances, and love that remains in space long after the final breath.

HolyVerre was born from the belief that memory should not be enclosed within a cold object. It should live. Pulse. Reflect light in the same way human life once reflected it.

For centuries, crystal has been regarded as a material that carries energy.

It holds light, disperses it, and transforms it into something almost spiritual — subtle, pure, and timeless.

Just as a person leaves behind an invisible energy of emotions, crystal captures light within itself and returns it to the world once again. That is why the HolyVerre crystal urn is not merely a place of remembrance.

It is a symbolic union of two energies:
the energy of a person who loved, felt, and left a lasting mark behind, and the energy of crystal — enduring, serene, and eternal.

Inside rests a porcelain urn — delicate and subtle, symbolizing the fragility of human life.

Like porcelain, human life is beautiful, unique, and incredibly fragile.

It may last for decades, leaving behind immense love and countless memories, yet it remains something so fleeting and delicate in the face of time.

The union of crystal and porcelain creates a unique symbolism. Crystal represents energy, light, and the spiritual presence that remains with us forever.

Porcelain reminds us of the sensitivity of existence and how precious every human life truly is.

When light passes through glass, something extraordinary happens.

The urn comes alive.

As if the presence of a loved one still exists among the reflections of light and the silence of space.

Every HolyVerre urn is hand-crafted and remains as unique as human life itself.

No two lights are identical, no two memories are the same, and no two stories can ever be repeated.

That is why every form, every reflection, and every detail carries within it an individual trace of remembrance.

We do not create objects.

We create emotional works of memory.

We believe that love does not end with departure.

It simply changes its form.

Just like light enclosed within crystal never truly fades — it only continues to disperse, remaining with us forever.
